NEW YORK, June 13.-There wasn't very much business on the short session today, while prices were both higher and lower on the leading rails, with the chief weakness in the first hour of the morning, when the bears dared to take a chance in selling it. to cause uneasiness or to change the feeling of traders one way or the other. feeling of traders one way or the other of testing of traders one way or the other of its own weight, and the unfavorabinal realroad earnings coupled with busines conditions and the flood of securities being issued by companies to help of the programmings and waste property. the poor earnings and make improve-ments that would otherwise have to go unmade-the market is anything but

That there was a strong closing evidenced nothing but the evening up of a line of shorts put out earlier in the day, and also yesterday, when the profits were sufficiently large to encourage covering. It wasn't a market to require much comment, the heaviness being oppressive at the opening, and the recovery only modest in the and the recovery only modest in the final dealings. Union Pacific opened at and the recovery only modest in the final dealings. Union Pacific opened at 144, sold to 142½, or 1½ below yesterday's close, and then recovering advanced to 144¾, a net gain of ½ point for the day. The other leaders acted much the same. St. Paul went off ¼ at the opening, dropped another ¾, and made a net gain of but ¼. Reading made a ¾ gain, after the same kind of fluctuations.

Missouri Pacific, New York central, and Northern Pacific a point higher. Copper firmer.
The closing was nearly at the top.

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June
3.—When the Rev. William Berg. of Hartford, passed a cigar to Deacon Lyman Smith with the laconic comment,
"Let's light up," he sealed his fate so far as becoming the pastor of the Mittineague Congregational Church was concerned. Until that inauspicious moment Mr. Berg easily led all other cundidates in the favor of the parish.

Some of the members of the church

ARE YOU SAVING?

No matter in what walk of life, you must realize the importance of making adequate provision for the future. For most people small savings represent the foundation of a future competence. The small sums which pass through the hands of the ordinary man or woman, in the hands of a thrifty person become the means by which a substantial fund is accumulated. We pay 3% per annum.
